ARRANGED IN LOCAL CHURCHESSuperintendent Dewey Asks
$4500 for the Coming Year

Sunday, October 31 is Rescue Mission day in La Crosse. The last Sunday in October is set aside by the churches and the services turned over to the mission so that a report of the year's work can be made to the church of which the mission is a part.

Rescue Mission was established in La Crosse 14 years ago. Its object was to reach the unchurched "down town" and to aid the man that is "down and out" in other words, "a sinner for the church."

The Rescue Mission is a local institution and all money collected in La Crosse is spent in this city. It has a board of directors of 15 representative business men who keep in touch with the work and handle the finances.

The mission is supported by contributions and in past years has been well supported. Six years ago the organization purchased the building it now occupies at 212 Pearl street.

There are many persons in the city of La Crosse and all over the United States who thank God for the Rescue Mission of La Crosse.

There are some discouraging things in the Rescue Mission work and many times the superintendent thinks of the words of Jesus, "Where there are not ten clean, where are the nine?"

During the last year Superintendent Dewey and wife have had two girls in their own home who in their condition needed a friend. One of them has a home for herself and her babies.

Superintendent Dewey is looking forward to a hard winter and is arranging to put up his beds again that he may take care of the man that is "down and out."

But the main object of the mission is not feeding and sleeping men but pointing them to the great burden bearer, Jesus Christ; then they may become self supporting.

The mission has a Sunday school that meets every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with an attendance of 30 to 40.

The Mothers' circle meets every Wednesday afternoon to sew and repair clothing to be given away.

"We never sell clothes," said Mr. Dewey.

A Bible study is held every Friday night with an able Bible teacher conducting the class.

A gospel service is held every night by Monday and the mission hall is open all day for a reading room.

The mission owns a summer camp and next year expect to take the mothers and kiddies for an outing in the country.

In many other ways the mission is beneficial to the city. This coming year the mission wants $4,500 to run the work and take on some other work that is needed in this city.

Mr. Peter McFarlan of St. Paul, Mr. Fred G. Becker of Milwaukee and Mr. Joseph Gantzel of Racine will be here Sunday to assist and speak at the different meetings.

There will be three union services Sunday evening in the Salzer Memorial church, Congregational and Calvary Street Methodist churches.

RUMORS OF MARRIAGE ARE REVIVED

NEW YORK.—General John J. Pershing will become a Long Island resident soon. He has taken one of the most picturesque homes on the North Shore, near Roslyn. The announcement has set rumor running once more that the general is about to marry. "What would a lone man do with fourteen rooms even if he is a general?" the island gossips want to know. Inset is General Pershing.

STORES TO CLOSE
ON ARMISTICE DAY
FOR CELEBRATION

Chamber of Commerce Directors Co-Operating With American Legion for Event

WATERWAY PROJECT TAKEN UP WITH NEW COMMITTEE FORMED

Money Raised in La Crosse to Aid Minnesota Highway Move

THE board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, at its monthly meeting Friday, reaffirmed the motion made and passed at the general members' dinner on Thursday evening to do everything in its power to help make the legion's celebration on the anniversary of Armistice day a success, and particularly to accede to the request of the local post that the chamber suggest to its members that business houses be closed at noon on November 11 in honor of the men who served and died for their country during the war.

The meeting developed considerable discussion as to waterway traffic and a special committee was created in the nature of a "La Crosse to the Sea" committee to consider and report upon all waterway matters that come before the chamber. A strong effort will be made to induce as many ships as possible to send representatives to the forthcoming meeting at Minneapolis on November 16.

The next dinner meeting of the members will be held the latter part of November, in charge of the advertising club and publicity bureau, and will have some very unique features regarding advertising La Crosse.

All for Grain Show

Reports from various bureaus and committees in regard to the progress of the corn and grain show and the carnival show that plans are developing splendidly for one of the most notable events which has ever been held in this city.

Every organization in La Crosse which has so far been brought into the work, has shown the heartiest desire to co-operate and help to put the affair across in the most auspicious manner.

Aid Minnesota Roads

Announcement was made to the board of the raising of a considerable fund among the business men of the community as a donation to the expense of the educational campaign of the Minnesota Highway Improvement association. This work was undertaken and carried through by the Automobile club of Western Wisconsin with the assistance of the chamber.

LITHUANIAN CITY

EVACUATED BEFORE ZELGOSKI ADVANCE

RIGA.—By The Associated Press.—The Lithuanian government is hastily evacuating Kovno and is removing all railway material possible to Havil and other points of northern Lithuania, as a result of General Zelgowski's insurgent army having broken through the Lithuanian front near the town of Vilkomir, 45 miles north of the town of Kovno, Friday evening.

General Zelgowski's offensive continues along the whole front and his forces are attempting to surround Kovno and attack it from the rear.

LIQUOR DISGUISED AS SOAP IS SOLD ON CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Ill.—Characterized by many of the rugged old "tipplers" as having a distinct bearish movement on the "whiskey board of trade," liquor disguised, labeled and billed as soap, coming from Canada, made its appearance here Saturday, according to federal officials. The liquor, said by imbibers not to have the strength of "the old stuff," said "cheap." A carload arrived on "the market" Saturday, federal officials declared.

SERVICE TO WHITE HOUSE

Democratic Headquarters to Keep President Informed

WASHINGTON.—The president and Mrs. Wilson voted Saturday in the presidential election. They marked their ballots at the white house and mailed them to Princeton, N. J., where the president heretofore has gone each election day to vote.

Nine other ballots also were forwarded to New Jersey Saturday from the white house, including those of Secretary Tumulty and Mrs. Tumulty, Dr. Stockton Axson, a brother of Mr. Wilson's first wife, Charles Swen, the president's private stenographer, and other attaches of the white house.

These were the first ballots ever cast by Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Tumulty, and they were among the first of the great army of women enfranchised by the nineteenth amendment to vote in the 1920 election.

Most members of the president's cabinet and many other government officials as well as employees will go to their old homes personally to cast their ballots. A large number of federal officers and other Washingtonians, however, will vote by mailing ballots to the places where they maintain residences.

Preparations are being made at the executive offices of the white house for the receipt of election returns next Tuesday. The president will be kept informed of the progress of the counting of the ballots by means of wires installed in the executive offices communicating with the various democratic headquarters over the country.

ALLIED NOTE TO HUNGARY DEMANDS TREATY ACCEPTANCE

PARIS.—The allies have sent a note to the Hungarian government demanding ratification of the treaty of Trianon not later than November 15, it was learned Friday. In the event that no action is taken by that time the note points out that "certain consequences" will result.

A law providing for ratification has been introduced in the Hungarian parliament.

STEAMER SUNK IN

NINETEEN MISSING

Cape Fear Goes Down in Collision With Steamer City of Atlanta

STRUCK AMIDSHIPS AND SINKS
THREE MINUTES AFTER CRASH

No Passengers Carried on Either of Vessels

NEW PORT, R. I.—Members of the coast guard crew here reported today that no trace had been found of any of the nineteen missing members of the crew of 24 who were on the concrete steamer Cape Fear when that vessel was sunk in Narragansett bay last night in a collision with the Savannah line steamer City of Atlanta. The coast guardsmen conducted an all night search and found only quantities of wreckage. Points along the shore reported wreckage but there was no word of the missing men. Both vessels carried only their crews. The Cape Fear was struck amidships and sank in three minutes about half way between Castle Hill on the New port shore and Rose Island, going down bow first in 120 fathoms.

The City of Atlanta's bow was damaged badly. Her bulkheads held, and she anchored in the bay. The Cape Fear went down so quickly that the majority of the crew had to jump into the water.

Captain Garfield of the City of Atlanta, describing the accident, said that he picked up the lights of the Cape Fear and signalled with one whistle which was answered. He was bearing steadily to port, he said, with plenty of clearance room when suddenly the Cape Fear swung across his bow, blowing two whistles as a signal after she had turned to cross to the other side. Cap. Garfield said he ordered full speed astern but could not avoid the collision.

DEFENDS TEACHER WHO REFERRED BOUT BETWEEN PUPILS

CHICAGO, Ill.—Plans to put a set of boxing gloves in every Chicago school for the use of pupils in settling their disputes are being made by George B. Arnold, chairman of the finance committee of the board of education.

Mr. Arnold announced his plan Saturday in answer to critics of Miss Alice M. Hodge, principal of the Webster school, who referred a bout between two of her pupils. He said that as far as he was concerned the efforts of attorneys for Mrs. Rose Seion to have Miss Hodge discharged because she permitted the battle would prove of no avail.

CLOSE TO MILLION TO BE DEVOTED TO NEAR EAST RELIEF

NEW YORK.—Appropriations totalling nearly $800,000 for relief work in the near East were voted at a meeting here Friday of the executive committee of the Near East relief.

A gift of $150,000 from Armenians resident in the United States was received and the committee appropriated $300,000 for immediate purchase of supplies for Armenia.

MILITARY DISPLAY IS FORBIDDEN AT M'SWINEY FUNERAL

Cork Officials Notified of Restrictions to be Observed at Services

CORK BISHOP ORDERS THE STRIKERS TO TAKE FOOD

Will Appeal to Sinn Fein to Release Prisoners from Their Fast

LONDON.—The Sinn Fein executive has decided to postpone the funeral of the late Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork until Monday as a protest against the government's action in the case, and to appeal from the military order restricting the length of the funeral procession to a quarter of a mile, says a dispatch to the Central News from Cork Saturday afternoon.

LONDON.—The British military authorities at Cork served notice Friday night on Deputy Lord Mayor O'Callaghan and the bishop of Cork stating that nothing in the nature of a military display, such as the forming of companies, will be allowed during the MacSwiney funeral on Sunday. The cortege is restricted to a length of a quarter mile.

No "Irish republican" flags will be permitted except one on the coffin. Troops, the notice said, will be posted at various points, but will not interfere if the conditions are carried out.

CORK.—By The Associated Press.—Thousands of Irishmen of all classes and callings, with their wives and children, filed in solemn procession today past the bier of Terence MacSwiney, late lord mayor of Cork, mutely testifying to the esteem in which the deceased lord mayor was held by his fellow townspeople and the whole of nationalist Ireland. By train, jaunting car and about hundreds from the country about Cork and from the more distant Irish centers entered the city from early morning.

Bishop Appeals to Strikers
CORK, Ireland.—Bishop Cullen of Cork visited the late Friday and peremptorily ordered the hunger strikers there to take food. All refused. Thereupon the bishop instructed the nuns attending the hunger strikers to prepare food.

The nuns, having no alternative, obeyed the command and offered food to each of the prisoners, but all refused it.

Bishop Cullen now is appealing personally to the Sinn Fein leaders to release the prisoners from their hunger strike. At noon Saturday they had completed the eighteenth day of their fast. Michael Burke collapsed Saturday morning. Sean Hennessey and Thomas Donovan are reported to be very low.

Hold Services in U. S.
WASHINGTON.—Memorial services for Terence MacSwiney, late lord mayor of Cork, will be held throughout the United States Sunday, it was announced by the Friends of Irish Freedom. Locals of the organization, it was said, would set the time for the services.

Bishop Thomas Shahan, rector of Catholic university, in a sermon at the solemn requiem mass sung for the repose of the soul of the late lord mayor at the University Saturday, declared that never in the history of mankind had there been an individual act of self-sacrifice equal to that of MacSwiney.

"The entire world," said Bishop Shahan, "has been fascinated, so to speak, by MacSwiney's fight for a principle and when it culminated in his death, he won the respect and admiration of all, including his enemies."

Eamon de Valera, president of the provisional Irish republic, attended the mass.

LA FOLLETTE SPEAKS
HERE TONIGHT ON LEAGUE, RAIL LAW

Senator's Health Forbids Public Reception; Meeting in La Crosse Theater, 8 P. M.

United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, who is to speak at the La Crosse theater at 8 o'clock tonight will arrive in the city at 5:45 o'clock this evening, over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul. He comes to La Crosse from Milwaukee.

The senator will be met by the committee in charge of the La Crosse address and will be taken direct to the Hotel Stoddard.

Indications today are that the seating capacity of the theater will be insufficient and it is probable that an overflow meeting will be arranged. Any announcement on this feature of tonight's gathering will be made from in front of the theater tonight.

Owing to the great demand for seats the committee announced today that children will not be admitted.

The doors of the theater will be thrown open at prompt 7:30 o'clock. The senator is scheduled to begin his address at 8 o'clock.

Accompanying the senator will be his son and private secretary, Robert M. La Follette, Jr., and Michael O'Brien, Madison, first assistant attorney general of Wisconsin.

U. S. Schooner
Wins First Race
From Canadian

HALIFAX, N. S.—The American schooner Esperanto Saturday won the first race in the international fisherman's regatta off Halifax harbor. She will meet the Canadian contender Delawana again Monday in another contest which, if she is victorious for the second time, will give her the championship.

Making up half a minute she lost at the start, the sturdy New England fishing smack breezed along into the lead within the first ten miles and when half the distance had been covered, appeared a sure winner. The Yankee craft, when she headed into Halifax harbor for the finish line, was twenty minutes ahead of her rival and made for the Nova Scotia port like a horse for his own stable.

Esperanto crossed the finish line eighteen minutes and 28 seconds ahead of her rival by official time.

UNITED STATES TO RECOGNIZE MEXICO
AT AN EARLY DATE

Way Open to "Speedy and Happy Outcome" Declares Colby in Statement

MEXICO TO LIVE UP TO ALL
OBLIGATIONS SAYS AGENT

To Name Commission to Pass on Claims of Foreigners

WASHINGTON.—Announcement by Secretary Colby that "discussions" with the confidential agent of the new administration in Mexico gave "promise of a speedy and happy outcome is believed to be a forerunner of recognition of the government at an early date."

Mr. Colby late yesterday made public a letter from Roberto W. Pesqueira, representative of "Washington" of the new government of Mexico and in that connection stated that it afforded a foundation "upon which the preliminaries to recognition can confidently proceed."

Nothing was said as to whether recognition would precede the inauguration of President-elect Obregon next December 1.

Will Not Disavow Obligations

Mr. Pesqueira gave assurance that Mexico does not intend or ever has intended to disavow her obligations. He said the Mexican government is prepared to establish a joint arbitration commission to pass upon and adjudicate the claims presented by foreigners on account of damages occasioned during the revolution.

In his statement Secretary Colby said he thought himself "warranted in saying that the Mexican question will soon cease to be a question at all, inasmuch as it is about to be answered, not only as it concerns the United States, but, indeed, the whole world as well."

Seek Slayings of Americans

MEXICO CITY.—Every effort is being made to apprehend the criminals who held up and killed Arthur Mosely and Gustavo Salazar, near Tampico recently, declared a note handed Matthew B. Hanna, acting American charge d'affaires, at the Mexican foreign office Friday. The note was in answer to representations made by Mr. Hanna last Wednesday, asking that the persons guilty of the outrage be apprehended and punished.

Open Negotiations Soon

Formal negotiations looking to the recognition of the new government in Mexico are expected to be inaugurated immediately after the elections. It is understood that Robert W. Pesqueira, Mexican confidential agent in the United States, will then ask for an audience with state department officials.

In administration circles, it was stated that as a preliminary to full recognition much depended upon Mexico's own action. It was pointed out that the Carranza decrees against which the American government has repeatedly protested have not been rescinded.

It was learned that foreign governments would be formally notified of Secretary Colby's announcement of Friday that recognition of Mexico was near, and also of the letter from Mr. Pesqueira setting forth the aims of the new Mexican government, which was made public with the secretary's announcement.

Secretary Colby has stated that foreign governments would follow the lead of the United States in according recognition. Great Britain has not recognized any government in Mexico for years, having refused to follow the lead of the United States in according de facto recognition to the Carranza regime.

It was stated officially that no intimation had reached the state department of the resignation or contemplated resignation of George T. Summerlin, American charge in Mexico City who is now in Washington. It was said that there was no basis for the report that Summerlin would resign because of the action of the state department in extending hope for early recognition.

LEAGUE OFFERS
ONLY REMEDY FOR TROUBLES

Simple Plan Provided for Nations of World to Patch up their Differences Says Reinsch

STRONG TALK IS GIVEN HERE BY CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR

Impressive Democratic Speech Heard at Yeomen Hall by Large Audience

Declaring that the League of Nations offers the only opportunity for representatives of the nations of the world to sit around a table and discuss their differences to the end that world peace may be maintained, Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, democratic candidate for United States senator, made a strong plea for support of the democratic ticket in an address at Yeomen hall Friday night.

Dr. Reinsch spoke to a large audience and, in the opinion of those present gave the clearest explanation of the league of nations heard here in the present campaign. The speaker was introduced by John F. Doherty.

Mr. Reinsch strongly condemned the lavish expenditure of money in the Republican pre-convention campaign as well as afterwards.

"The presidency of the United States was treated as a commodity which could be traded in, and bought and sold for money," he said. "The control by the money power of the Chicago Convention was perfect." He quoted Senator Johnson, "Those peculiar financial forces of New York who believe the government belongs to them and that its primal purpose is for their benefit, were brazenly directing their willing puppets who, in turn were manipulating delegations, boldly and contemptuously these financial magnates and those who represented them politically, denied the right of the people to participate in a nomination."

"So much for the Senator," said Mr. Reinsch. "Our knowledge bears out his indictment. It is necessary that we should give serious thought to this matter, in order that the highest office in the land and indeed our entire political life be not besmirched and covered with contempt by cynical methods of money control which should be utterly outlawed and banished in a free government."

Need Presidential Primary

"We require the presidential primary in order that the selection shall be made on the basis of widely different public confidence, rather than through nomination by a narrow group. Our standard for this high office should exact qualifications of character, experience, constructive ability and right to leadership, which can only go with a great public reputation won through actual service. If the people themselves have the right to nominate, such a reputation will be the greatest power, far beyond any influence that money can give. Any system of government can be tested by the quality of the leaders it produces; we cannot put our requirements for the Presidency too high. The qualities of a nominee should be so completely and widely known that he would be a 'personified policy on whose character and political temper the people would have no doubt or uncertainty."

For Corrupt Practice Act

"The second means of protection of popular government is found in stricter corrupt practices legislation. The penalty for political bribery, that most subversive of crimes, because it destroys respect for government and law, should be so severe as to get under the hide of the hardest-boiled corruptionist. Justifiable expenditure should be confined to the publication of statements of policy to political speaking. It is highly important to create a situation when the advantage of a reputation for intelligent and efficient public service is supreme and decisive, and cannot be overcome by lavish expenditure of money for advertising and working."

Refers to Michigan Case
Mr. Reinsch severely criticized the Republican managers in the Senate for supporting and keeping in his seat Mr. Newberry of Michigan, adjudged by a jury of his peers of having broken the criminal provisions of the corrupt practices law and incurred the penalty of imprisonment.

"In fact, the debauch of corruption in his election was so notorious as to be a scandal most injurious to the respect for American government," said the speaker. "And this man was made a member of the committee on foreign relations, where he served to make the majority which so persistently attacked the covenant of the League of Nations."

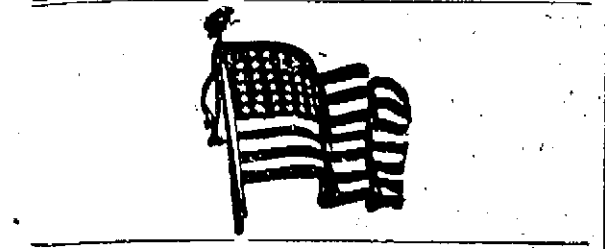

Mr. Reinsch then spoke of the constant misrepresentation of the provisions of the League, particularly in connection with the six votes of the British Empire, Article X, the Shantung settlement and the Fourteen points.

League Helps Ireland

Mr. Reinsch has on several occasions been asked, "What will the League do?"

A CASE IN POINT

C. A. DUTTON, of Galesville, recently took a truckload of Wealthy apples from his orchard to Neillsville; something over 100 bushels were on the truck. At Neillsville he could find no market. Buyers said that $1.25 was the prevailing price for Wealthies, but they didn't want any at that or any other price. So Mr. Dutton cranked his truck and went on, discouraged. Just sixteen miles away he hit the little village of Greenwood. As a matter of fact rather than of hope he halted before the town store and offered his apples for sale. The dealer took the whole load and asked for more. And the price he offered was $2.50.

The incident serves to illustrate a phase of the problem referred to at the Chamber of Commerce dinner on Thursday evening by Daniel Casey, the great problem of marketing and distribution of farm products. We do not believe that Mr. Casey at all overstated the case when he said that the farmers in the last year or two have become generally discouraged over the shrinking prices they have received for their produce, coupled with the steadily ascending prices of all that they had to buy which prevailed until recently. Mr. Dutton's apple experience just recounted shows where one of the difficulties lies, and suggests one of the avenues of improvement. A very great share of the trouble lies in uneven distribution which permits a glut of apples, say, at one market and an absolute dearth at another. This is of course partly due to natural causes—there were lots of apples grown in the country about Neillsville, but none about Greenwood. But that at Neillsville the farmers should get just half what apples were worth at Greenwood, sixteen miles away, is a sad commentary on the efficiency of our marketing arrangements in a day when communication and transportation by wire and motor, letter and railroad, is as quick and easy as now.

We would heartily endorse Mr. Casey's suggestion that the matter is one of vital interest to the town only less than to the farmer. If the orchardists of Neillsville got less than a fair price for their apples, perhaps it is also true that the consumers at Greenwood paid more than needful had there been an unobstructed flow of apples from sources of supply to centers of demand. The interests of both would be demonstrably better served by full distribution of market information and of the products themselves. The problem is one in which only blindness can fail to see the joint urban and rural interest and responsibility. It emphasizes the good sense and mutual advantage of the proposals for closer fellowship and co-operation between city and country which Dr. H. C. Evenson and others have been urging upon La Crosse.

LA FOLLETTE'S HEALTH

In his Racine address La Follette intimated that his health would not permit him to encounter the excitement of a joint debate with Senator Lenroot. Irrespective of whether this is discounted to any extent by his continuing to prosecute a vigorous speaking campaign against Lenroot, it is probable that in giving proper allowance for his own physical welfare, La Follette may fairly have considered the point. He is no longer a young man. He has recently come from a major operation. It is doubtless true that he cannot now "stand the gaff" as once he could. Senator La Follette's health has nothing to do with the merits of the quarrel between him and Lenroot, but it may well have something to do with his declination of Lenroot's challenge, as well as with the clarity of the vision and judgment which he has brought to bear in arriving at the position assumed in his attack on his junior colleague. La Follette seems not to have changed as to the essential principles at which he has always driven, but that he has weakened to the extent of sometimes permitting prejudice to play him intellectual tricks appears to be the fact. La Follette's honesty of purpose has been one of the solid things upon which for years we have built political optimism, and on sober second thought we prefer to leave it unchallenged, a thing worth saving. And, after all, when the author of the Wisconsin commission laws and of the railroad valuation act refers to the Esch-Cummins bill as "the crime of 1920", the question raised goes to his power of comparative analysis rather than to his veracity. Or perhaps we should say rather that we simply cannot get his point of view. The "crime of 1920" was that the roads were returned to private ownership under any arrangement whatever. Sooner or later the country will come back to that chapter, and rewrite it. Meanwhile, since it was obvious that there was to be some sort of private ownership law, it became the part of statesmanship to get as good a private ownership law as possible, remembering always that forty days without transportation would starve the country and that "money makes the mare (and the box cars) go."

RIVER REVIVAL

Will there ever be a revival of river traffic? There will, unless the American business genius has lost its vision and its punch. There will, unless the upper valley inhabitants are blind to the lessons of example. Business genius will not fail to note that water traffic for heavy bulk freight is the cheapest form of transport ever discovered. A commerce amounting to one-third of the whole volume of traffic carried on the seven salt oceans of the world plies annually on the Great Lakes in a brief eight-months season, at a third of a cent per ton mile. And building and operating steamers for Great Lakes conditions is a deal more expensive than the same factors for the simple tows and barges needed on the Mississippi. Nor is it all speculation, theorizing. It is being done on the lower river. St. Louis and New Orleans have a regular and continually increasing traffic in the new tows and barges. There, to back the theoretical teaching of European and Great Lakes experience of water traffic, is the demonstration under conditions practically the same as those of the upper river, that it can be done thriftily and efficiently. A revival of upper river traffic is coming. It may be held up by indifference, delayed by hostile interests, but it is coming as surely as next week, by operation of the economic law which decrees that the efficient way of doing things will always supersede the wasteful and inefficient.

WHY POLITICS AFFECTS YOUR HOME

BY MAUD WOOD PARK
(Chairman National League of Women Voters)

Mothers of the Nation

American womanhood has answered the age-old query "Am I my brother's keeper?" Millions of American women have endorsed the Shepherd-Towner bill providing federal protection for maternity and infancy and have massed together that they may help secure its enactment for the mothers and children of the nation. Twenty-three thousand mothers each year give their lives for the little lives they bring into the world and nearly a quarter of a million babies under one year of age die annually, and the most of these deaths are preventable. One of the measures of justice for which the League of Women Voters is working is to save to the nation these mothers and children, healthy and strong. Is it not worth while? It is a national need—conserving the health and lives of those citizens and mothers of citizens. Women the country over are profoundly interested in the enactment of the Shepherd-Towner bill, which provides federal co-operation with the states for instruction in the hygiene of maternity and infancy and for nursing and medical aid where necessary. These provisions will directly touch the women and children who most need this legislation and who are least able to speak for themselves. The Congress has appropriated hundreds of millions of dollars for our commercial, agricultural and animal welfare. In the last twenty years the typhoid and diphtheria rates have been cut more than half; tuberculosis has been markedly reduced, but there has been no decrease in the maternal death rates! Now with the startling figures of the children's bureau to shame them into action, and national sentiment to urge them on, the House and Senate will drag up the Shepherd-Towner bill once congress convenes in December. Bring a definite part to play in securing the enactment of this law. Show your senators, and your representatives that the sentiment of your district is earnestly and solidly for this law. They are there as your representatives. See that they carry out the wishes of their constituents. And see that this annual wastage, more than three times as great as our total death list in the World War, is stopped. You can stop it. It is up to you.

IT PAYS TO COMPROMISE

BY H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

"Fifty acres, at least," said Peter firmly. "Two acres at most," retorted Betty quite as firmly. And then these two very positive, very young people sat regarding each other defiantly, each secretly hoping the other would weakly yield with a "Well, have it your own way." But, as it happened, neither did. The circumstances to be brief were as follows: Peter and Betty, expected to be married in exactly two weeks. Their wedding was planned down to the very last railroad ticket. But—and this was relevant to the subject under discussion—they had as yet no place to which to return when the honeymoon was over. Peter boarded, and so did Betty. And their strongest emotion, except their love for each other, was a prejudice against boarding any longer. Betty had visions of a softly lighted living-room not shared with sixteen other roomers, while Peter had dreams of pies not made with substitutes and then divided into innumerable small pieces. Out of this feeling had emerged the decision to "do it right." And gradually had grown a vision of a home in the country with vegetable gardens and cows and chickens and pigs. Betty's idea was to have a small place thoroughly that have a lot of idle fields on our hands growing four for lack of crops. Betty had not been perusing the agricultural bulletins for nothing. "Very well," said Peter stiffly. "But if we are going to live in this sort of thing, we must do it right. It costs enough to make it worth while, with enough acres to raise the hay to feed the horses that do the plowing and to prepare the fields that yield the crops." "It sounds like the house that Jack built," giggled Betty. Then, seriously, "Well, all I can say is that I won't be a party to any such foolishness. Besides, after saying right along that you would be satisfied with twenty-five acres, you are jacking it up to fifty! It's absurd." And that is the point at which the story begins. Home very shortly and tried to forget that he and Betty were indulging in their little quarrel. But even as he attempted to interest himself in an infrequent volume of advertisements, he was reminded of the fact that he had not yet secured a place to which to return when the honeymoon was over. Betty's pigmy little face as she danced him danced between the lines, "Two acres, at most!" she had insisted. You see Peter had seen in the paper an advertisement of a farm for sale with considerable more than the twenty-five acres and a telephone conversation with the agent had convinced him that it was a decidedly worth-while buy. However, he had to wait for the plans or fail to persuade Betty likewise. Next morning Betty was summoned from breakfast by a telephone call. Peter said, "I want to see you at an early hour. Eight o'clock it was. He must have just reached the office." Hello—yes—this is Betty—yes—tell me about it. The substance of the call was this: Peter had come across an advertisement for a farm for sale. According to Peter there wasn't much else to the item but that simple fact. At least it made no mention of acres or tools or improvements. Of course, it might not be at all what they wanted, but would Betty please meet him during his noon hour and with him at the agent's, in whose name it was listed? After a moment, Betty agreed. It was true that Peter had departed the night before, but she had no objection to his intended to hold him to account. But, after all, her interest in securing a home for the honeymoon was promised to meet him, and hung up the receiver. Peter found her at the time agreed upon, and, as he expected, she was true figure of the smart little suit with the peppy hat with the mercury wings projecting from either side, he mentally registered the statement that he was a lucky dog. A few minutes later they gazed enraptured at a photograph of a low-crowned farmhouse with broad veranda and dormer windows. On either side the land appeared to extend indefinitely, but the size of the picture prevented one telling the amount of actual acres. "It's a bargain, all right," the agent was declaring with what really seemed to be genuine sincerity, "but this is a conventional prize that was part of his stock in trade. Seven rooms—all improvements—on the twelve-acre tract, a beautiful house, a fine garden, mostly tiled. Stalls for three horses, stanchions, with one eye on Betty. Peter was about to put the vital question, but the agent misunderstood.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT PRESIDENTS?

If Cox carries "The Solid South" (126 votes), Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, in all past presidential elections voting democratic—Kentucky and Missouri, usually democratic—New York, California and Ohio—and nothing more, will he be elected? If Harding carries the six New England states, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey in the North Atlantic group, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin in the North Central group, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas, Oregon and Utah, west of the Mississippi River—and nothing more, will he be elected? By how many popular votes in a total of about 1,100,000 did Wilson defeat Hughes in Ohio in 1916? By how many popular votes in a total of about 1,600,000 did Hughes defeat Wilson in the state of New York in 1916? Shall you be able to "split" your vote on election day, voting for the nominee for president on one ticket and for the nominee for vice-president on another ticket?

The answers to these questions will be given in this space tomorrow. Five new questions will be printed each day.

YESTERDAY'S QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Which five presidents had "James" as their given name? James Madison, James Monroe, James Buchanan, James K. Polk, James A. Garfield.
What six great American statesmen are sometimes called the "unelected Presidents"? Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, James C. Blaine, Horace Greeley, Stephen A. Douglas, Samuel J. Tilden.
What men three times received votes in the Electoral College, but were never elected to the presidency of the United States? Henry Clay, William J. Bryan.
How many states cast their electoral vote for Theodore Roosevelt in 1913? Six (California divided).
Did women vote for presidential electors in 1916 in the states of New York, Ohio and Massachusetts? No.

CARNIVAL IS FAILURE GIRLS NOW TAKE HOLD
(Third Day of Story, "When the Boys Failed.")
Shock and Tub were peering through a window of the dressing room at the main floor of the old skating rink. It was the night of the carnival and they were anxiously watching every time the door opened.
"Shock, where are all the fellows? It doesn't look as if there's going to be very many," said Tub.
"Just take it easy, the fellows will be here all right. Say Tub, you know there are a lot more girls than fellows out there. Wouldn't that be fierce? The girls'll sure think we're a bunch of pikers."
"It doesn't make any difference who's here just so we can rake in the money."
Each person who came into the room meant just so much toward the future of the team.
All too soon eight o'clock came and the stunts began. The boys had expected to see the room crowded, but they had to begin with hardly half of the seats taken.
To Tub, Shock, Buck and the rest of the fellows their stunts meant nothing. Their minds were back in the office, helping Pete Weeds count the receipts.
As soon as the last fight was over, Shock fairly leaped into the hall on his way to find Pete.
"No use hurrying like that," said Pete, as he caught Shock's arm in passing. "We didn't even make enough to pay for the rent tonight. Where on earth were all the fellows?"
Shock stared at Pete and then turned and started to sneak out the back way. He had a wounded pride and a black eye and he didn't know which hurt the worst. But meet her he did as he started out the back door.
"Make it, Shock," anxiously asked Peg.
"Now," answered Shock as he slunk by.
Peg felt sorry for Shock and for the whole team and as she turned to go home with the girls she determined she'd find a way to get that money.

STUDY HELPS

Civics at Home
In Huntington, Va., civics is studied as a Huntington subject. During the past few weeks garbage and waste collection and disposal have been the subjects. Students bring to class all the clippings they can find on these topics, most of them coming from Huntington papers. These clippings are pasted into one large scrapbook which will be placed permanently in the school library. Already the library contains a number of such homemade books on different subjects that concern the civic life of Huntington.

BOYHOOD STORIES OF FAMOUS MEN

MARK TWAIN
James Jones had the black measles, and all the other boys and girls in the neighborhood were jealous. They wanted the measles too. Samuel Clemens, better known as Mark Twain, decided that he would have some of the glory. One afternoon when no one was looking, he slipped into Jim's house and up to Jim's room and right into bed with him. Sure enough, Sam got the measles! He was a very sick boy and the doctor said he could not live. The family gathered tearfully around his bed to watch him die. Sam afterward confessed that after seeing the family's sorrow. But he fooled them. In a short time he was up and looking for more mischief.
Mark Twain (1835-1910) has been called "The Man who Made the World Laugh" because he wrote stories about boys and their pranks. His two most popular books are "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn."

PURER WATER FOR STATE IS AIM OF BOARD OF HEALTH

Quarterly Report Tells of Action Taken to Better Conditions in Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis.—Steps taken by the sanitary engineering division of the state board of health to bring about purer water supplies, sanitary methods of sewage disposal, and disposal of industrial wastes, are recounted for the third quarter in the report filed with State Chief Engineer J. G. Mack. This work was done by G. M. Baker, state sanitary engineer; E. J. Tully, chemical engineer; and T. Jasper McLean, who was employed as assistant sanitary engineer during the summer months.

Development of more complete and satisfactory public water supplies was undertaken at Stevens Point, Portage, Sheboygan and Two Rivers, and better sewerage facilities at Two Rivers, Cudahy, and other places.

Public sewer or water systems were under construction at Colby, Stratford, Durand, Amery, Idaho, Waterloo and Verona, and in contemplation at Cheyenne, Rib Lake, Spooner, Cumberland, Augusta, Brillion, Cedarburg, Dousman, New Holstein, and a number of other towns.

Water supply investigations were completed at Augusta, Baraboo, Green Bay, Marinette, Monroe, Niagara, Sheboygan and Two Rivers, and are still in progress at Clintonville, Janesville, Neillsville, Phillips and Stevens Point. Sewerage investigations were completed at Black River Falls, Rudington, Columbus, Denmark, Fall River, Hartford, Jackson, Manitowish, Marshfield, Oostburg, Oshkosh, Portage, Waubesa, Wilton and Waukesha. Similar investigations are in progress at Delavan, Green Bay, Oakfield, Phillips, Racine, Sheboygan, Whitefish Bay and Waupun. Sewerage plans were approved for Denmark and Waupun, and are awaiting approval for Kaukauna, Niagara, Stevens Point, Two Rivers and Whitefish Bay.

Milk product waste investigations were completed at Abbotsford, Alma Center, Barronette, Cadott, Cambria, Chili, Frederic, Hillsdale, Holmen, Humbird, Hill Point, Ixonia, Joel, Keshau, Kildbourn, Loyal, Madison, Milton Junction, Morley, Mt. Hope, Neillsville, Otero, Rosendale, Schellsburg, Two Rivers, Canby. Wastes were investigated at Baraboo, Barron, Blair, Boka, Fox Lake, Fredonia, Gillette, Horicon, Lake Mills, Lodi, Lomira, Merrill, Norton, Redville, Sankville, Seymour, Stoughton, Throp, Union Grove, Valders, Waupun and Whitewater and paper and pulp mills at Black River Falls, McDill and Nekoosa.

NORMAL'S COURSE OPENS MONDAY NIGHT WITH FINE PROGRAM

With five most excellent numbers representing a wide range of interests, the Normal lecture course opens on Monday night its eleventh season. For vocal music there is Myrna Sharlow, a grand opera singer of prominence in the large musical centers of America.

For instrumental music there is the Trio Aeolienne, containing such artists as Czernowky and Bruno Stein-del.

For a literary treat there is the lecture by John Drinkwater, England's famous poet and dramatist.

For patriotic and oratorical address there is Hon. Frederick Landis, whose platform efforts have aroused enthusiasm wherever he has appeared.

For dramatic reading there is Prof. Ralph Dennis, director of the school of oratory at Northwestern university, who will read Louis N. Parker's drama "Joseph and His Brethren."

This is certainly a remarkable list for one season's entertainments and the interest and patronage so far displayed indicate a generous response to the offering. Any who neglect this opportunity for enjoyment will surely regret it later.

GERBER CHARGES ELECTION FRAUDS ARE CONTEMPLATED

New York Socialist Appeals to Palmer to Enforce Election Laws

NEW YORK—Declaring that he had good information that all kinds of violations of the law from more technicalities to buying of votes, stealing of ballots and deliberate spoiling of ballots by election officials "would be resorted to in four congressional districts here, next Tuesday," Julius Gerber, executive secretary of the New York county organization of the socialist party, calls upon Attorney General Palmer in a letter "to see that the election be carried on in accordance with the law."

"In the election of 1918," he wrote, "during the canvass of the votes on the night of election day, the lights were turned off and the polling places left in darkness, and while the lights were on, ballots cast for the socialist candidate were stolen and either substituted by others marked for the fusion candidate or the ballots were missing."

Anticipating a reply from Attorney General Palmer suggesting that he refer the matters "to the courts of justice," Mr. Gerber said legal proceedings after election are "costly" and "lead to nothing."

PRICES OF DAIRY PRODUCTS BOOSTED DURING OCTOBER

Potatoes, Sugar and Flour Show Declines Says Report of Market Bureau

MADISON, Wis.—In its semi-weekly Market News Letter the division of markets will say of commodity prices:

"Dairy products increased in price in the state during October according to the reports received from all over the state giving retail prices of the important food products. Declines, however, were noted in potatoes, sugar and flour while meat prices remained practically the same.

"The average retail price of butter in September was 37.6c lb. while in October it was 39.5c lb. Dairy butter sold by the farmer averaged him 33.9c lb. Eggs sold by the farmer averaged him 51.2c a dozen and the average retail price was 55c as compared with the September average of 48.8c a dozen. The average milk price remained the same at 11c a quart. The average retail price of American cheese was 34.9c a lb. compared with 34c in September.

"Sugar continued its decline but there is a wide variation in the retail price. The prices paid over the state ranged from 12c to 20c lb. with a state average of 16.1c as compared with the September average of 18.6c. Flour dropped from the September average of $4.00 per 49 lb. sack to the October average of $3.65. The cabbage average price remained the same at 3.8c lb. The average price per ton received by the farmer was $6.30. Potatoes brought the farmer an average of $1.28 cwt. and retailed for an average price of 2.4c lb. compared with the average September price of 3.7c lb. The average retail price of round steak this month was 20.7c lb. and of pork chops 33c.

"The following are the average prices received by farmers for products sold to local dealers: Hogs $12.02 cwt., cattle $9.28 cwt., mixed fowls 21.3c lb., wool 28c lb., yellow corn $1.14 bu., oats 55c bu., barley 93.7c bu., wheat $1.95 bu., timothy hay $22.99 ton."

FRIENDS OF M'COY TO TOUR MONROE COUNTY ON MONDAY

Big Booster Trip Planned as Windup of Campaign for Gubernatorial Candidate

SPARTA, Wis.—As a fitting wind-up of the campaign in Monroe county for governor, the friends and supporters of Colonel Robert B. McCoy have planned a big booster trip for Monday.

All friends of the colonel, both men and women are invited to join in the trip. The parade will leave the McCoy headquarters in Sparta at 7 o'clock in the morning and will go to Tomah. Tomah supporters of the colonel for governor will join the procession and the trip will be continued to Kendall. After Kendall, stops will be made at Wilton, Norwalk, St. Mary's, Cashton and Melvin and home by supper time. At first it was intended that Colonel McCoy should spend the last day of the campaign in his home county, but it was afterward thought best to have him go to some county where he was not so well acquainted and where his presence would do more good toward the success of the campaign, and he was accordingly scheduled to speak in towns in the eastern part of the state.

A republican rally was held in the Armory Wednesday evening, when Senator Van Law of Iowa spoke. This was the first republican rally of the campaign and was under the direction of the republican county committee, Dr. C. F. Phalen of Harvard, Ill., arrived in the city the past week and has gone into partnership with Dr. John Scantleton. The two physicians were classmates in the Northwestern university and both were in the service overseas. For some time Dr. Phalen practiced medicine in Colorado and for the past year had been located in Harvard, Ill. His wife and child will join in this city as soon as the doctor is able to find a suitable home.

The Sparta Sash and Door company, under the management of the Nasel Brothers, are doing a good work for the city, in building a half dozen cottages and bungalows which will help to some extent in solving the housing condition. For the past year, many who have wanted to come to the city, could not find a vacant house. There have been none to rent and many men who have come to the city and gone into business have been compelled to live in the hotels, while their families resided elsewhere. The new cottages being erected by the Nasels are in the square, northwest of the Milwaukee station. One or two are already completed and occupied, the remaining ones will be completed as soon as possible, if the weather holds good. They are not large buildings, but such as will meet the needs of the ordinary working man.

The Screen

AT THE THEATERS TODAY
 "The Perfect Woman" with Vera Gordon.
 "Humoresque" with Gaston Glass.
 "The Flame of Hellgate" with Beatriz Michelena.
 "The Wonder Picture of the Age" with Elmo Lincoln.

RIVOLI
 Just to prove that there is more real comedy in a story with a humorous theme, rather than in a hysterical pandemonium of flivvers chasing each other over slippery scenery, with policemen falling from the benches at every turn of the road, John Emerson and Anita Loos have written "The Perfect Woman," starring Constance Talmadge. This policy of real human interest stories interspersed with suspense and laughter is the type of story that Miss Talmadge appears to such splendid advantage.

"The Perfect Woman," which will be shown at the Rivoli for the last time tonight, is a story of a girl who rams her way into the home of a multi-millionaire, who is supposed to be a woman hater. This situation brings about a series of amusing and thrilling incidents into one of the most novel climaxes ever witnessed.

MAJESTIC
 After tonight, "Humoresque," the picture that has been causing so much talk, at the Majestic, will leave our midst. "Humoresque" has been gaining steadily each day in popularity, and it is a known fact that some of the patrons of the theater have seen the picture two and three times.

It is the tale of a youthful genius and mother-love with the scenes laid chiefly in New York's Ghetto and Fifth avenue. Miss Hurst as is well known, is right at home portraying with realistic touch the characters of New York's humble inhabitants, and "Humoresque" contains this intense heart appeal. Humor and pathos are deftly mingled in the picture.

RIVIERA
 One of the pictures that caused a lot of talk this week while running in one of the downtown houses was "Under Crimson Skies." This picture, which stars Elmo Lincoln, will be the feature attraction at the Riviera today.

Theatergoers who enjoy a story of romance and adventure, and unusual plot and characters that differ from those one meets in everyday life, will enjoy this picture.

CASINO
 Beatriz Michelena in "The Flame of Hellgate," will be the featured attraction at the Casino today and to-morrow.

YEOMEN TAKE IN LARGE CLASS WITH SPLENDID PROGRAM

Open Installation is Followed by Delightful Social and Entertaining Features

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen held open installation and class adoption Thursday evening in the presence of the members and their friends. W. E. Davy of Des Moines, Iowa, chief correspondent of the order, presided over the officers assisted by Mr. M. J. Clark, district manager of Milwaukee, Wis.

After the installation Mrs. Lee gave an original poem introducing all of the newly installed officers and presented James B. Murray with a handsome umbrella, a gift from the membership. Mr. Murray has been foreman of the Homestead for the last five years.

Mr. Clark of Milwaukee was then introduced. He gave a splendid talk and gave much credit to the deputies for the splendid growth of the membership which is now 4375 in La Crosse.

Elmer E. Smith, the new state manager of Wisconsin gave an interesting talk and delighted the audience with a number of funny stories.

The next on the program was Myron S. Locke. He brought down the house with a black face specialty, and responded to several encores. He was assisted on the piano by Mrs. Frank Schwalbe, Jr.

P. J. Yery, one of the candidates, and H. A. Lee, district manager, were called on and gave short talks about the society.

Miss Ruth Coppin, accompanied by Mrs. S. G. Berling on the piano, pleased the crowd with a song entitled "Peggy." She also responded to an encore.

W. E. Davy was the last speaker and gave a brief outline of the society in general explaining the plan and growth of the organization, interspersing his address with funny stories.

Ice cream and wafers were then served after which Carl Clark and his Ragamuffin orchestra furnished such splendid music for dancing that they held the crowd until long after midnight.

The out of town guests were Mrs. Stewart, Durand, Wis., W. E. Davy, Des Moines, Iowa, chief correspondent.

Elmer E. Smith, Wis., state manager, and M. J. Clark, district manager, of Milwaukee, Wis.

The next large class will be taken in during November.

Public Debate

U. S. Navy Recruiting Station,
La Crosse, Wis.

To Editor Public Debate Dept.,
La Crosse, Wis.: I have been on recruiting duty for the navy in La Crosse for some months and have been surprised at the indifference of the young men and parents of this area of this vicinity to the wonderful educational advantages of our peace time navy.

The navy teaches fifty-five different trades and I will state positively that in no other branch of the government are young men's earnings capacity at the end of one hundred per cent.

Some people have an idea that the men of the navy are non-producers. You may as well say that the students of our schools and colleges are non-productive. The navy is taking an untalented man and making of him a skilled specialist in whatever line he may choose, in doing a wonderful work for the country.

The tuition and board in the navy schools are not only free, but the student is also given a free outfit of clothing and a substantial wage which is increased as he becomes more proficient in his trade.

These navy schools belong to you. You start them. Why have you your sons enjoy their advantages?

ALEXANDER J. WALSH,
Chief Water Tender, U. S. N.

At a meeting of women in the Yeomen hall Thursday afternoon Mrs. Youmans, speaking for the G. O. P., in explaining Article X of the League of Nations Covenant, said that if the United States pledged itself to Article X, should war occur between Japan and China, our American boys would be called to their countries to help settle the grievances. But is it not true that such a thing ever happened, which is doubtful that with our soldiers, would go the soldiers of the other nations who are members of the League? Would it be possible that citizens of these countries would meet upon a battlefield and fight against each other? Would a country with any sanity left in it send its army so tremendous as would be inevitable? And is it not true that if the United States goes in on Article X, after giving it a trial, it is not possible with the experience of two years' withdrawal without any obligations or restrictions at the end of two years? I should be grateful for some enlightenment on this article.

Will Take Advice OF BOTH SIDES IF ELECTED SAYS COX

Will Consult With Republicans and Democrats on Treaty
Ratification

CHICAGO, Ill.—Five speeches in Chicago, one in Gary, Indiana, and an old-time torchlight parade are on the schedule of Governor Cox Saturday for the wind-up of his campaign for the presidency.

Governor Cox made public here today a telegram to a woman supporter in which he stated his intention to consult with both democrats and republicans, if elected, to secure ratification of the peace treaty, and to consult with other leaders regarding Irish and Jewish racial questions.

"If I am elected," said the governor, "I shall recognize the mandate for entrance into the league of nations and shall work out that solution by conference with the senate, but accepting such helpful reservations as are necessary to that end. I shall consult with Woodrow Wilson, with Elihu Root, with William Howard Taft, and any others who by virtue of their experience can render helpful service."

MOTOR BOAT RACES
FOR FISHER TROPHY

Second and Third Contests to be Held at Miami and Buffalo

NEW YORK.—The second and third hydroplane races for the Carl Fisher trophy will be held this winter and next summer at Miami, Fla., and Buffalo, N. Y., respectively. It was decided by the American Powerboat association, which ended its annual meeting here Thursday night. The first race was held in Detroit last summer.

Albert L. Judson, who was re-elected president of the organization, predicted that a motorboat will soon be built that will make 100 miles per hour. Within the last six years, he said, the speed had been developed from 51 to 76 miles.

In order to encourage racing contests among members an additional $5,000 gold cup has been offered by Mr. Fisher and S. Gar Wood, the latter of whom won the Harmsworth race in England last summer with his "Miss America."

BALTIMORE, Md.—The fight scheduled between Benny Leonard, lightweight champion and Harlem Ed Kelly was declared off on account of not sufficient money in the house.

Miss Edith Kauffuss Gets Award
in Salvation Army Competition

Miss Edith Kauffuss, La Crosse, was one of the winners in the Salvation army state poster contest.

Isabel Melvain, Darlington, was awarded first prize in the Salvation army state poster contest for Wisconsin high school pupils, which closed on Thursday.

Dudley Crafts Watson, director of the Milwaukee Art Institute, and Miss Charlotte R. Partridge, director of the Layton school of Art, were the judges.

Other prize winners included: Paul Reno, Racine, second; Juez Broten, Barron, third; Francis Nicholson, Racine; Marie Christiansen,inery; Elizabeth Donaldson, Kaukauna; Basil Connell, Darlington; Dorothy Harriman, Glenwood City; Edith Kauffuss, La Crosse; Hortense Metzger, Wisconsin Rapids, all honorable mention.

The Salvation Army campaign to raise $7,500 in La Crosse county for home service work and a maternity hospital to be erected in the state, will be launched next week.

Assembly District

If you are opposed to being governed by the Non-Partisan League of North Dakota,

If you are opposed to the un-American doctrines of the Non-Partisan League—socialism, free love and atheism,

If you are opposed to double taxation of your farms and property, and the placing of the burdens of taxes on the farmers of the state and county,

If you are opposed to the destruction of our public and Parochial schools,

If you are opposed to the things that have made Wisconsin famous and North Dakota notorious,

If you want to be represented in the legislature by a man of experience and ability, and not by a representative of an outside organization with headquarters in St. Paul, Minnesota,—

DESIGNERS OF SPEED BOATS TO MEET IN WESTERN CIRCUIT

Chris Smith, Designer of "Miss America," to Donate Working Plans to Organization

Announcement is made today by officials of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat association, which incorporates most of the important middle western power boating organizations, that the designers of the world champion racing boats—the two men recognized as the builders of the fastest things that float—will be matched against each other in the racing on the western circuit next season.

Donates Model

Chris Smith, of Algonac, Michigan, who designed and built "Miss America," winner of the Harmsworth international trophy as well as other world champions for the past nine years, has written the officials of the association that he will donate to the organization the working plans and model of "Miss America III," a sixteen foot speed racer, which showed phenomenal speed in the races at Peoria on Labor day. The working plans and patterns are to be published and made available to any boatman in the Mississippi valley states who is interested in speed and desire to build a boat like the "Margaret III."

The rival boat—the design of the other star architect, is "Miss Quincy." This craft, very much like the "Margaret III," was designed by John L. Hacker of Detroit, the famous designer, whose handiwork succeeded this season in attracting Harry Ford into the boat racing game. "Miss Quincy" was built from Hacker plans by Clifford Padgett of Quincy, Ill. During the Peoria Labor day races, she showed she was quite the equal of "Miss Margaret III" by defeating the South design in one of the races. Negotiations are now on between officials of the M. V. P. B. A. and Designer Hacker with a view to having him donate the working plans of the "Miss Quincy" also, so that western boatmen may build and race either model in the 1921 events. That there will be some battles for "blood" is assured, for both of these designs are exceedingly fast and it will remain with the builders and drivers to see power and operate them as to get the greatest possible speed out of the hull.

Other Entries
These competitive designs between the "home folks," however, will not be the only interesting feature of the 1921 class racing in the west. Garfield A. Wood, the Detroit millionaire who raced "Miss America" and is recognized as the present world title holder, announces that he, too, expects to build some class race boats and will be at the western meets next season with some "little fellows" that will make the boat racing fraternity in the Mississippi valley step some. Boatmen who attend the National Motor Boat show at Grand Central Palace, New York, December 10 to 18, will have opportunity to make a close examination of the designs of both Smith and Hacker, for many of the famous boats which will be on exhibition will be from plans drawn by these two famous architects.

ILLINI AND GOPHERS BATTLE TODAY FOR "BIG TEN" RIGHT

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 30.—Illinois and Minnesota meet today in a battle which will determine which eleven is to remain in the "Big Ten" conference fight.

The line-up against the Gophers was said today to be identical with that against Michigan.

LA CROSSE NORMAL HANDED DEFEAT BY RIVER FALLS ON NORTHERN GRIDIRON FRIDAY

The La Crosse Normal football team went down in defeat to the strong River Falls Normal team Friday afternoon 7-0, at River Falls. Both teams were evenly matched, and the game was evenly matched from start to finish.

River Falls made its touchdown in the first quarter on a long forty yard pass to their right end. Four men went down the right side of the field in a straight line on this play, and the interference was too great for the La Crosse backfield to overcome. Regret tackled the man just as he reached the goal line at the corner.

River Falls had a line composed of heavy men averaging about 180 pounds. They broke through the La Crosse line repeatedly and tackled the backfield men before they could get started. Gunroe, the Indian end of the River Falls outfit, was individual star for the northerners. He did all their forward passing and made many gains through the line.

RACES INAUGURATED AT ORIENTAL PARK THANKSGIVING DAY

HAVANA, Cuba, Racing at Oriental Park will be inaugurated Thanksgiving day, purses totalling $650,000 being provided for the 100 days' race meet, according to a statement by Frank Brown, general manager of the Cuban American Jockey and Auto club.

A large force of workers has been engaged throughout the summer months, making improvements on the grandstand, paddock and track.

The principal race on the opening day will be the Thanksgiving handicap, with a purse of $3,000.

The program for the season includes the following events:

- Purse of $15,000: Grand Prix of Cuba and the Cuban Derby.

BOWLING

The Maders, runners-up for first position in the City Bowling league, took three games from the Velvo Sweets at the Lotus alley Friday night. Emil Horn rolled high score for the Maders, having 552, while G. Horn followed in close with 548.

The Independents failed to show up, giving the Longley Hats a forfeit of three games.

RICKARD FAILS TO ANNOUNCE PLACE OF BIG FIGHT STAGE

New York Expects Carpenter-Dempsey Go to be Staged Nearby

NEW YORK.—The mystery surrounding the names of the Cuban sportsmen who are seeking to stage the Jack Dempsey-Georges Carpenter bout at Havana continues as thick as a London fog. Tex Rickard won't tell.

In boxing circles in this city the Cuban proposition did not seem to strike a responsive chord. Comment was openly heard to the effect that when everything had been satisfactorily arranged the bout would be staged somewhere in the vicinity of New York.

The belief seemed to obtain that the promoters were feeling the pulse of official approval and that if the boxing authorities in this state were disposed to regard the match favorably the formal announcement would be made that Dempsey would defend his title against Carpenter in a specially constructed open air arena within easy access of New York.

Questioned as to the Cuban proposition, Rickard, Dempsey's manager, said he knew nothing more than had been announced following the meeting on Wednesday. He said he was sure Cuba had the best chance of getting the match.

FARRAND COPS FIRST IN BODEGA POCKET BILLIARD TOURNAY

Emerges from Fourth Game With Percentage of 1.000; Defeats Brown 70 to 29

Wallace Farrand became the winner of the Bodega pocket billiard tournament Friday night when he emerged from the fourth game with a victory over Brown by 70 to 29. With all of the best pocket billiard players in the city lined up in the tournament, the winner holds the title of the best player in the city. Farrand will meet any player in the city.

By defeating Brown, Huebner took second place in the event, and Pennell third. The final standings are as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Farrand	4	0	1.000
Huebner	3	1	.750
Brown	2	2	.500
Pennell	1	2	.250

THREE UNDEFEATED "BIG TEN" ELEVENS IN STRUGGLE TODAY

Buckeyes Meet Chicago in Initial Clash at Stagg Field Saturday

CHICAGO, Ill.—The "Big Ten" Western football conference today offered, in a setting of brisk, snappy "football weather," two struggles in which three undefeated elevens were contestants.

Ohio State, runner up in the championship race last year, was scheduled with Chicago on Stagg field, Illinois, 1919 title-holder, remained at Urbana to receive Minnesota. Of the four aggregations, the latter was the only one having met defeat.

Today marked the first appearance of the Buckeyes in a clash with one of Stagg's elevens. Ohio State was a strong favorite today. The Maroons' decisive defeat of Iowa stamped the eleven as one of power, offensively and defensively, however.

At Urbana, Illinois, yet to feel the sting of defeat had to beat Minnesota twice to remain in the championship race.

Northwestern and Indiana clash today at Indianapolis in their annual battle. The Hoosiers were beaten by Iowa early in the season, but came back and won from Minnesota at Minneapolis. The purple took Minnesota into camp in an early season struggle but lost to Wisconsin.

Tulane meets Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Purdue clashes with Wabash at Lafayette.

WEST AND SOUTH TO INVADE EAST FOR GRID HONORS TODAY

NEW YORK.—Four invading football teams, two from the middle west and two from the south, broke through their sectional boundaries today to do battle with prominent teams in the east. Notre Dame matches the Cadets at West Point; Virginia tackles Harvard; West Virginia grapples with Princeton, and Western Reserve meets the Navy.

While little is known of the comparative strength of Notre Dame and the Army their records indicate that they both have powerful scoring machines. During this season the Hoosiers have piled 125 points against ten by their opponents. The Army also has run up heavy scores against their opponents.

Yale expected an easy game with Colgate.

University of Pennsylvania faced Penn State. Pittsburgh was matched against Lafayette.

The Rutgers-Cornell and Syracuse-Holy Cross contests attracted great interest.

WEBBER IN TIP-TOP CONDITION FOR GO AT YEOMEN ARENA

Kid Brown, of West Salem, and Young Sampson to Offer Lively Prelims

Tuned to 150 pounds, and all ready for action, Jack Webber, local grappler, is confident of a win over the Greek Demon, of Moine, Ill., when the two take the ring together Monday night. The go is scheduled for 8 o'clock at Yeoman Hall, and promises to give La Crosse fans one of the best exhibitions of wrestling seen here in years.

Webber has a surprise for the Deimon, as well as for La Crosse audiences, he states. He has been training for some time, and will introduce Jiu-Jitsu, the science of the Japanese wrestlers, into his action.

Kid Brown, West Salem mat star, who will wrestle Young Sampson in the preliminaries, has agreed to throw the South-Sider in 30 minutes up to their difference in weights. Sampson, however, makes up in speed and cleverness what he lacks in brawn, and promises to give the big boy some real action.

It is thought at present that Deimon, well known local grappler, will be secured to referee the main go, while Sailor Nelson will be the third man in the ring for the preliminaries. Both men have seen their shares of ring work, and will make competent officials.

"I am confident that I can defeat the Demon," said Webber this morning. "I have been working out at the Y. M. C. A. practically every night, and am in top-notch condition. The Greek is going to go some to put me to the mat."

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

1. Senators Lodge, Penrose, Du Pont, Smoot, Johnson, Borah, McCormick, Watson, Harding and others, make up the Senatorial ring of bosses, who picked Harding during the 1916 Republican Convention as the party candidate in 1920. They are now opposed to the League of Nations.

They oppose the League, as a "cover" for a deeper purpose. They are using their opposition to the League of Nations, to hide the real purpose of their campaign to get control of Congress and the White House. This is proven when they admit that they are in favor of an "international association that will guarantee peace."

The real purpose of these Republican bosses is to hide their desire to revise the income tax laws; the corporation tax law; the excess profits tax law; the capital stock tax law, so that the taxes for federal needs will be switched from the rich men, their corporations, their income from stock dividends and bond interest, to the salaried voters; the working man; the middle classes and the farmers.

Anybody who has read the League of Nations Covenant knows that this conspiracy of this Senatorial oligarchy, has used falsehoods, deceit, misrepresentation and fraud, in their campaign against the League of Nations. They have employed duplicity and insincerity; they have wobbled and wobbled; they have shifted and sidestepped on every question of the League when the falsehood of their claims have been uncovered. Any means fair or foul have been theirs to "smoke screen" the atmosphere and "outfit fish" the waters about the League of Nations.

Can you afford to put a Congress in Washington, and a President in the White House, that would endanger the everlasting peace of Nations; that would expose you to recurring wars, in order that the rich tax payers can saddle their taxes on you?

These senators are responsible for the failure of the United States to be in the League of Nations, which would have brought peace, and are responsible for the continuation of trade relations, between the United States and Germany and Austria, being held up. Trade has been resumed between America and Germany, millions of starved women, children and men in those countries would have been saved. Are you in favor of voting for the candidates of these senators who are responsible for this suffering?

and comes into force through France, becoming a signatory to the Covenant of the League.

Point 9, pertains to the frontiers of Italy, and this point is covered to the satisfaction of the high contracting parties in signing the Treaty of Peace, and by Italy becoming a signatory to the League Covenant.

Point 10, pertains to Austria-Hungary, and is fulfilled in the Treaty of Peace.

Point 11, pertains to Roumania, Serbia and Montenegro, and is fulfilled in the Treaty of Peace.

Point 12, pertains to the Turkish Empire, the Dardanelles and other nationalities under Turkish rule, and is fulfilled in the Treaty of Peace.

Point 13, pertains to the restoration of Poland, and is fulfilled in the Treaty of Peace.

Point 14, is fulfilled in Article 10 of the League Covenant. It is the specific covenant, provided by the League of Nations and the Peace Treaty, that "affords mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small nations alike."

The covenant of the League of Nations forms Part 1 of the Treaty of Peace at Paris. The details of the Treaty that deal with individual nations and states made up Part II.

The restoration of Belgium is provided for in the Treaty of Peace, which goes into force, through the Covenant of the League of Nations, by virtue of Belgium being a signatory to the covenant of the League.

Point 8, pertains to the restoration of Alsace Lorraine to France. This is also covered by the Covenant, because the Treaty of Peace disposes of this matter.

The "FOURTEEN POINTS" are in the League of Nations and the Treaty of Peace

Point 1, is covered by Article 15 in the League Covenant. It demands open diplomacy.

Point 2, is covered in Article 23 (c) in the Covenant and it entrusts to the League of Nations the task of developing a sea code, guaranteeing the freedom of the seas.

Point 3, is covered in Article 23 of the Covenant, also and demands equality in trade conditions.

Point 4, is covered in Articles 8 and 9 of the Covenant and demands reduction in armaments.

Point 5, is covered in Article 21 in the Covenant, and pertains to the Colonies of Germany.

Point 6, pertains to Russia. The situation in Russia at the time of the Paris Peace Conference was such that no progress could be made. Russia did not participate in the conference.

Point 7, pertains to the restoration of Belgium. The restoration of Belgium is provided for in the Treaty of Peace, which goes into force, through the Covenant of the League of Nations, by virtue of Belgium being a signatory to the covenant of the League.

Point 8, pertains to the restoration of Alsace Lorraine to France. This is also covered by the Covenant, because the Treaty of Peace disposes of this matter.
